GVC CONTEST 2013/14

Many congratulations to the students of the class IB, led by their English teacher Maria Pia Genovese, for being classified in second place (Silver Prize) among 11 websites run by secondary schools around the world, as part of the international GVC CONTEST . with the students and faculty of the Indian School DAV Public School, Pushanjali Enclave (New Delhi) and American St. Paul Lutheran High School (Farmington, Missouri), our high school has successfully contributed to the design of the website GVC 1311 "PRESERVING OUR PAST , FORGING OUR FUTURE "which you can explore by clicking on the link <https://sites.google.com/a/gsbj.org/gvc1311/> GVC Website Design Contest is an international competition that involves more and more schools from different continents since 1996. This year, the schools involved were more than 600 in 62 countries. The competition is implemented in the design of a website on a topic freely chosen by students from at least two schools from different countries. The use of technology and the Internet enables collaboration between students from different cultures and languages expanding their horizons and at the same time strengthening the sense of national identity in deep respect for diversity.
